Introduction

As a JROTC cadet you are embarking on one of the most interesting and valuable educational experiences of your high school career. In JROTC you will be given the chance to participate in your education and will learn to be a better citizen. The program provides you with tools and skills you can use to succeed in high school, but far more importantly, these tools and skills will be useful for the remainder of your life.

You will learn to:

- Appreciate the ethical values that underlie good citizenship. Citizenship, taught through a study of history and government, demonstrates the importance of commitment and strengthens your character and resolve as you grow. You will learn to make ethical decisions based on core values.
- Develop leadership potential and learn to live and work cooperatively with others. Teamwork and leadership, within teams and groups, are essential to the smooth operation of any organization. You will learn leadership to increase your skills, not only to lead but to also to work as a member of a team. Service, drills, challenges, and other competitions make learning teamwork and leadership challenging and fun.
- Think logically and communicate effectively both orally and in writing. You will learn important skills in writing, reading, and test taking that will allow you to excel in your classes outside JROTC. You will learn basic problem solving, financial planning, and conflict resolution – life skills that will help you live in the modern world.
- Appreciate the importance of physical fitness in maintaining good health. Fitness, wellness, and good nutrition are necessary to perform as a citizen and a leader. JROTC will teach you what needs to be done to become fit and to maintain that fitness. Instruction will be provided on how your brain functions, how you can maximize your learning and effectiveness, and how to avoid pitfalls such as substance abuse.
- Understand ways to resist negative peer pressure and support others. It is one thing to know how to make better choices for yourself and another to teach others to do the same. Through service learning you will be able to help others to develop the positive strategies you have learned that will enhance their quality of life.
- Develop mental management abilities. You will be able to assess your skills and learn to make more logical, positive decisions and choices. You will learn how to set goals and develop an action plan that will help you to achieve those goals. As you become a better citizen, a better leader, and a better team member, your self-esteem will fly. Your “Can Do” attitude will show beyond JROTC.
- Become familiar with military history as it relates to America’s culture and with the history, purpose, and structure of the military services. Learn not only about important events in our history, but also about their effect on our society. Discover the role the military services play in supporting the nation.
- Understand the importance of high school graduation for a successful future. Develop the means and motivation to graduate from high school and to pursue a meaningful life.
- Learn about college and other advanced educational and employment opportunities and develop the skills necessary to work effectively as a member of a team. You will learn about the many varied opportunities that are available to you upon graduation. The foundation and competency skills required to work effectively are ingrained throughout the curriculum.

Unit 1: Citizenship in ActionChapter 1: Foundations of Army JROTC and Getting Involved*Lesson 7: Proudly We Sing – The National Anthem*The Star-Spangled Banner

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there,
O say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen through the mist of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream;
'Til the Star-Spangled Banner--O long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

O thus be it ever when free men shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation;
Blest with victory and peace, may the heaven rescued land
Praise the Power that has made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto, "In God is our trust;"
And the Star-Spangled Banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Unit 3: Foundations for Success

Chapter 2: Learning to Learn

Lesson 1: Brain Structure and Function

Triune Brain

The Neocortex is responsible for thinking and speaking. When activated by positive emotions, whole-brain activation can take place allowing high-level learning. The Limbic System is responsible for group interaction and emotions. It monitors fear, threat, intimidation, and put-downs and codes incoming information with positive or negative emotions. The Brain Stem, also known as the Reptilian Brain, Reactive Complex and R-complex, governs primitive needs such as a sense of safety and survival. When the Limbic System detects fear, threats, intimidation, or put-downs, the R-complex takes over and downshifting occurs preventing high-level learning.

Unit 3: Foundations for SuccessChapter 5: Conflict Resolution*Lesson 1: Causes of ConflictSkill Builder 1: Opening Up to New ExperiencesPurpose: To help you open up to all types of people.

Barriers	Motivators	Notes
I don't know what to expect. I don't feel comfortable. Maybe they won't like me. Maybe I won't like them. Maybe they won't treat me well. I may look end up looking foolish. I don't know what to say. I don't know how to act. Others:	It may be fun. It may be interesting. I may learn something. They may like me. I may like them. I may end up feeling better about myself. I may gain experience, perspective, understanding, empathy, compassion. Others:

The barriers relate to some type of discomfort and ultimately to some type of fear. They cause us to mentally separate ourselves from others, to contract, withdraw. The motivators relate to an outgoing tendency and ultimately to some type of good-will. They cause us to mentally reach out, to include, and to expand. They often involve curiosity, courage, and sense of adventure.

Step 1. Think of a situation where you did not say yes to an opportunity to experience a new situation with people you didn't know well.

What were some of the barriers that held you back? Check off the barriers that apply in the list shown above. Add others that you experienced.

Step 2. Think of a situation where you did say yes to such an opportunity.

What motivated you? Check off the motivators that apply in the list shown above. Add others that you experienced.

Step 3. What happened in the situation you said yes to make it more positive or negative in your opinion?

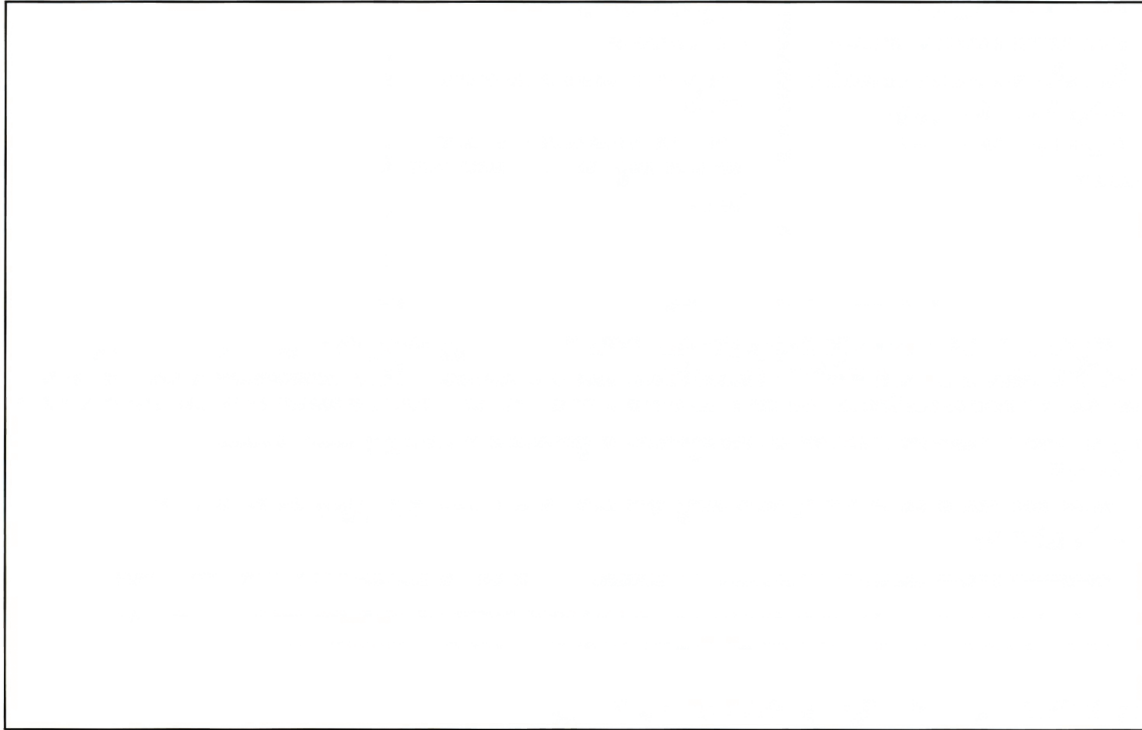

If more negative, what lessons can you draw from this experience?

Skill Builder 2: Picturing Exclusion and Inclusion in Your Organization

Purpose: To use the power of symbols and pictures to help you better understand your thoughts and feelings about prejudice and exclusion.

Step 1. Draw a picture to illustrate prejudice and exclusion in your JROTC unit or draw a picture to show how people could relate to each other in ways that express respect, appreciation and inclusion. Draw anything you like, but do not use any words in the picture. Use colors and symbols to express how people relate to one another, which groups have power, how they use power, and similar aspects

Step 2. Look at your completed picture and respond to the following:

- What immediate feelings do you experience?

- What thoughts come to mind?

- What does your drawing say about exclusion in your JROTC unit?

Skill Builder 3: Process for Changing Beliefs

Purpose: For leaders who are ready for advanced personal development work.

Be open to the idea that your hostile feelings, or feelings that separate, might be reflections of your judgments about yourself—that what you dislike in others is what you dislike in yourself. In describing this process, we'll use the term judgment to mean categorizing people, things, or situations, as right or wrong, good or bad, blaming or praising others, or making them wrong, bad, or evil on the one hand or right or good on the other.

Step 1: Find the bottom-line belief.a. Situation

Think of a problem situation involving someone from a “different” group, a situation that you suspect involves prejudice on your part. Describe the situation in a few brief words. Then write in answer to the following questions.

b. Feelings

- How do I feel about the situation?

- How do I feel about the diverse other(s)?

- Why do I feel this way?

For each response, again ask, “Why do I feel this way?” until you sense that you are at the root feeling.

c. Judgments

- How am I judging the person(s)?

- How am I making the person(s) wrong or bad?

d. Beliefs

- Why am I making this judgment(s)?

■ What belief causes me to make this judgment(s)?

Keep asking “Why? What belief?” until you sense you have found the bottom-line belief underneath the judgment.

Step 2: Take responsibility for the judgmental belief and its results.

Acknowledge that you have created this reality through your beliefs. You have co-created the situation with the other person(s) in that situation. It takes two to create a relationship problem. Allow that idea to permeate your being. Be willing to accept full responsibility for your beliefs and the actions that flowed out from those beliefs.

Step 3: Acknowledge and embrace your judgmental belief.

In your mind, you’ve been making the person(s) or situation(s) wrong or bad. You’ve been judging. That’s part of being human. To create harmony, you must release your judgment, release the experience of making things good/bad, right/wrong, and move into the experience of accepting what is.

If you want to change what is, you must first acknowledge and accept it. The only way to release judgment is to first recognize and acknowledge that you are judging. If you make yourself wrong for judging, you’re still into the experience of judging, only now you’re judging yourself. The change process requires you to accept the humanness of your judgment, to embrace it.

Embracing the judgmental belief. By embracing your judgmental belief, you create the freedom to change. Intellectualizing the change process usually will not change a belief, but it is the first step. The change process is to say to yourself, “It’s okay to believe this, but now it’s time for a change.” Then very gently allow the change to occur. Gather the judgmental belief from that judgmental part of yourself into your whole self, your greater self, with love and compassion. A metaphor that is powerful for some people is, “gather it into your light.”

Releasing the resistance to painful feelings. A judgmental belief usually fits in with your bottom-line fear, and the belief is often hidden because the fear is hidden, covered with layers of rationalizations, defenses, and other, less-painful fears. When you have great pain, you tend to handle it an extreme way. At one extreme, you express the pain with rage, tears, or anger. At the other extreme, you suppress the pain, ignore it, pretend it’s not there until you don’t consciously feel it. So you’ll normally have a great deal of repressed pain connected to the judgmental belief, and a great deal of resistance to feeling that pain, which for many people wants to be felt in the “pit of the stomach.”

Step 4: Feel the feelings.

The process of mentally embracing the judgmental belief with love and compassion lets you relax and let go of the “resistance to feeling pain.” Allow yourself to feel any painful emotion that comes up. Don’t intellectualize at this point, but move your consciousness out of your head into your stomach area. Go fully into this emotion and then let your consciousness go deeper into other underlying emotions if it wants to.

When you sense these painful emotions have run their course, be willing for your emotional consciousness to move into your heart area. The painful feelings can now give way to feelings of harmony, serenity, peace, and joy. These feelings come up when you truly acknowledge and embrace your judgment and move beyond beliefs that hold your separateness in place. You may experience a sense of oneness. Hang out there for a while so you can fully experience these expansive feelings.

Lesson 2: Cadet Challenge

Exercise 1: Keeping Track of Your Progress on “The Cadet Challenge”

Directions: At least five times prior to the date set by your instructor for the Cadet Challenge, complete the exercises that make up the Cadet Challenge. Try to achieve the 85th percentile standards listed in this unit. Record the dates you complete the exercises and your scores on the chart on the bottom of the page.

Since you are practicing these events on your own, the following guidelines will help:

- For the one-mile run/walk and shuttle run, try to run on a track -- many already have distances marked. If not, choose a location where you will be able to measure and mark these distances. Make sure the running surface is smooth and that there is little pedestrian, bicycle, or automobile traffic, so you will not be slowed down or distracted.
- Have a friend or family member time you in the one-mile run/walk, shuttle run, and curl-ups; and have them hold your feet and legs for the curl-ups and v-sit reach.
- If you do not have blocks for the shuttle run, use any light, small items that you can grip easily that are approximately 2" x 2" x 4".
- For the v-sit reach, use any straight line on the floor as your baseline (i.e., where carpet ends and tile begins, or place a piece of tape on the floor). Place a yardstick perpendicular to this line with 0" at the baseline. Make sure you place the heels of your feet on either side of where the yardstick meets the baseline, and measure the number of inches you stretch past the baseline with the yardstick.
- List personal goals for each event.

Cadet Challenge

1. Curl-ups: Conduct this event on a flat, clean surface, preferably with a mat. Start cadets in a lying position on their backs with their knees up so their feet are flat on the floor and about 12 inches from their buttocks. Cadets should have their arms crossed with their hands placed on opposite shoulders and their elbows held close to the chest throughout the exercise. The feet are to be held by a partner at the instep. At the command "ready, go," cadets raise the trunks of their bodies, curling up to touch the elbows to the thighs. They must then lower their backs so that their shoulder blades touch the floor/mat. This constitutes one repetition of a curl-up. During each repetition, bouncing off the floor/mat is not allowed and the fingers must touch the shoulders at all times. Cadets must try to complete as many curl-ups as possible in 60 seconds.
2. Partial Curl-ups: This event should be used as an alternative to curl-ups. Have cadet lie on cushioned, clean surface with knees flexed and feet about 12 inches from buttocks. Do not hold or anchor the feet. Arms are extended forward with fingers resting on the legs and pointing toward the knees. The cadet's partner is behind the head with hands cupped under the cadet's head. The cadet being tested curls up slowly sliding the fingers up the legs until the fingertips touch the knees, then back down until the head touches the partner's hands. The curl-ups are done to a metronome (or audio tape, clapping, drums) with one complete curl-up every three seconds, and are continued until the cadet can do no more in rhythm (has not done the last three in rhythm) or has reached the target number for the test.
3. Pull-ups: Conduct this event using a horizontal bar approximately one and one-half inches in diameter. A doorway bar or a piece of pipe can serve the purpose. The bar should be high enough so that cadets can hang with their arms fully extended and their feet free of the floor/ground. Have cadets assume the hanging position on the bar using either an overhand grasp (palms facing away from body) or underhand grip (palms facing toward body). Cadets begin the exercise by first raising their body until the chin is over the bar without touching it. To complete one repetition, the body must be lowered to the full-hang starting position. During each repetition, the body must not swing, legs must not kick or bend, and the pull must not be jerky. Cadets are scored on the number of pull-ups they can correctly execute. There is no time limit on this event. For cadets who cannot accomplish one pull-up, have them do the flexed-arm hang (below) as an alternative event.
4. Flexed-arm Hang: This event should be used when a cadet cannot execute one pull-up. (This event is only for the National Physical Fitness Award). Using a horizontal bar as in the pull-ups, have cadets climb a ladder until their chin is above the bar. They begin the exercise by grasping the bar with their hands, shoulder width apart -- using either an overhand grasp (palms facing away from body) or underhand grip (palms facing toward body). At the command "ready, go," the cadets step off the ladder. Simultaneously, an assistant instructor will remove the ladder and prevent any forward swinging of the legs. The cadet's chin should be level above the bar. Kicking and other body movements are not permitted while the cadets are on the bar. Start the stopwatch on the command "go" and stop it when the cadet's chin rests on the bar, the chin tilts backward to keep it above the bar, or the chin falls below the level of the bar. Scoring is to the nearest second.
5. Right Angle Push-ups: The cadet lies face down on the mat in push-up position with hands under shoulders, fingers straight, and legs straight, parallel, and slightly apart, with the toes supporting the feet. The cadet straightens the arms, keeping the back and knees straight, then lowers the body until there is a 90-degree angle at the elbows, with the upper arms parallel to the floor. A partner holds her / his hand at the point of the 90-degree angle so that the cadet being tested goes down only until her / his shoulder touches the partner's hand, then back up. The push-ups are done to a metronome (or audio tape, clapping, drums) with one complete push-up every three seconds, and are continued until the cadet can do no more in rhythm (has not done the last three in rhythm) or has reached the target number for the PPFA.
6. V-sit Reach: Conduct this event on a flat, clean floor. Use a yardstick and adhesive tape to make a baseline that is two feet long. Make a measuring line perpendicular to the midpoint of the baseline extending two feet out from either side of the baseline. Place one-inch and half-inch marks along the measuring line with "0" where the baseline and measuring line intersect. Have cadets remove their shoes and sit on the floor with the soles of their feet placed immediately behind the baseline. The measuring line should be between their heels, which should be 8 to 12 inches apart. Cadets must clasp their thumbs so that their hands are together, palms down, and place them on the floor between their legs. While their legs are held flat on the floor by a partner (or partners), cadets performing the exercise keep the soles of their feet perpendicular to the floor (feet flexed) and slowly reach forward along the measuring line as far as possible keeping the fingers in contact with the floor. Cadets receive three practice tries for the v-sit reach. On the fourth extension, cadets must hold their farthest reach for three seconds. Scores are recorded where fingertips touch the floor to the nearest half-inch. Scores beyond the baseline are recorded as plus scores, whereas those behind the baseline are recorded as minus scores.

7. Sit and Reach: A specially constructed box with a measuring scale marked in centimeters, with 23 centimeters at the level of the feet. Cadet removes shoes and sits on floor with knees fully extended, feet shoulder-width apart and soles of the feet held flat against the end of the box. With hands on top of each other, palms down, and legs held flat, cadet reaches along the measuring line as far as possible. After three practice reaches, the fourth reach is held while the distance is recorded. Participants are most flexible after a warm-up run. Best results may occur immediately after performing the endurance run. Legs must remain straight, soles of feet against box and fingertips of both hands should reach evenly along measuring line. Scores are recorded to the nearest centimeter.
8. One-Mile Run/Walk: Conduct this event on a flat area that has a known measured distance of one mile with a designated start and finish line. Give cadets a lightweight numbered device to carry or wear in any manner that will not slow them down while running. (Note: Use of the numbered device makes it possible to have many cadets run at one time by having them pair off before the start of the event, then having one cadet from each pair run while the other cadets keep track of the number of laps their partners complete as well as listening for their times as they cross the finish line.) Start cadets at the standing position. At the command "ready, go," start the cadets running the one-mile distance. Although walking is permitted, encourage cadets to cover the distance in the shortest time possible. Scoring should be to the nearest second.
9. Shuttle Run: Conduct this event on an area that has two parallel lines 30 feet apart. The width of a regulation volleyball court can serve as a suitable area. Start cadets at the standing position. At the command "ready, go," have the cadets run to the opposite line, pick up one block, run back to the starting line, and place the block behind the line. Cadets then run back and pick up the second block, which they carry across the line. Two runs are allowed for this event with the better of the runs recorded. Scoring should be to the nearest tenth of a second.

1. What are your height and hip measurements (ladies) OR your weight and waist measurements (guys).
2. According to the graph, what is your percentage of fat? According to the chart, is your fat percentage acceptable, good, athletic, or in need of help? Choose a diet plan you think you can manage to maintain, increase or decrease your percentage of body fat.
3. What, if anything, will you do differently the next time you sit down for a meal or snack?

The plans listed below are lifetime guidelines for healthy eating. The two plans that best enhance healthy eating are # 2 and # 3.

2. Write your percentage of fat and if your fat percentage is acceptable, good, athletic, or needs help. Write the diet plan you chose to follow.
3. What, if anything, will you do differently the next time you sit down for a meal or snack?

Unit 6: Citizenship in American History and GovernmentChapter 1: You the People – The Citizenship Skills*Lesson 1: The Preamble*The Preamble to the United States Constitution

We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

Unit 6: Citizenship and American History and GovernmentChapter 3: Creating the Constitution*Lesson 1: Articles of Confederation 1781*The Declaration of Independence

WHEN in the Course of human Events, it becomes necessary for one People to dissolve the Political Bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the Powers of the Earth, the separate and equal Station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent Respect to the Opinions of Mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the Separation.

WE hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all Men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness -- That to secure these Rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just Powers from the Consent of the Governed, that whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these Ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its Foundation on such Principles, and organizing its Powers in such Form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient Causes; and accordingly all Experience hath shewn, that Mankind are more disposed to suffer, while Evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the Forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long Train of Abuses and Usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a Design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their Right, it is their Duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future Security. Such has been the patient Sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the Necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The History of the present King of Great- Britain is a History of repeated Injuries and Usurpations, all having in direct Object the Establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid World.

HE has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public Good.

HE has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing Importance, unless suspended in their Operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

HE has refused to pass other Laws for the Accommodation of large Districts of People, unless those People would relinquish the Right of Representation in the Legislature, a Right inestimable to them, and formidable to Tyrants only.

HE has called together Legislative Bodies at Places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the Depository of their public Records, for the sole Purpose of fatiguing them into Compliance with his Measures.

HE has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly Firmness his Invasions on the Rights of the People.

HE has refused for a long Time, after such Dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative Powers, incapable of the Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the Dangers of Invasion from without, and the Convulsions within.

HE has endeavoured to prevent the Population of these States; for that Purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their Migrations hither, and raising the Conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

HE has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary Powers.

HE has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the Tenure of their Offices, and the Amount and Payment of their Salaries.

HE has erected a Multitude of new Offices, and sent hither Swarms of Officers to harrass our People, and eat out their Substance.

HE has kept among us, in Times of Peace, Standing Armies, without the consent of our Legislatures.

HE has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil Power.

HE has combined with others to subject us to a Jurisdiction foreign to our Constitution, and unacknowledged by our Laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:

FOR quartering large Bodies of Armed Troops among us;

FOR protecting them, by a mock Trial, from Punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:

FOR cutting off our Trade with all Parts of the World:

FOR imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:

FOR depriving us, in many Cases, of the Benefits of Trial by Jury:

FOR transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended Offences:

FOR abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an arbitrary Government, and enlarging its Boundaries, so as to render it at once an Example and fit Instrument for introducing the same absolute Rules into these Colonies:

FOR taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments:

FOR suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with Power to legislate for us in all Cases whatsoever.

HE has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.

HE has plundered our Seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our Towns, and destroyed the Lives of our People.

HE is, at this Time, transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the Works of Death, Desolation, and Tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty and Perfidy, scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous Ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized Nation.

HE has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the Executioners of their Friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.

HE has excited domestic Insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the Inhabitants of our Frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known Rule of Warfare, is an undistinguished Destruction, of all Ages, Sexes and Conditions.

IN every stage of these Oppressions we have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble Terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated Injury. A Prince, whose Character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the Ruler of a free People.

NOR have we been wanting in Attentions to our British Brethren. We have warned them from Time to Time of Attempts by their Legislature to extend an unwarrantable Jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the Circumstances of our Emigration and Settlement here. We have appealed to their native Justice and Magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the Ties of our common Kindred to disavow these Usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our Connections and Correspondence. They too have been deaf to the Voice of Justice and of Consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the Necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of Mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace, Friends.

WE, therefore, the Representatives of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in GENERAL CONGRESS, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the World for the Rectitude of our Intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly Publish and Declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be, FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES; that they are absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political Connection between them and the State of Great-Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which INDEPENDENT STATES may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm Reliance on the Protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.
